

LFC SIGNS NEW BROADCAST DEAL WITH TORO TV

LFC announced last week that they had terminated their broadcast deal with Fubo in order to sign with Maybacks Global Entertainment. As part of the deal LFC20 to LFC24 and the first four seasons of LFC Exposed will air on Toro TV. The deal will make LFC available on more than 150 smart TV brands in more than 150 countries. Due to some of the countries restrictions heavily censored versions will air (the uncensored versions will remain exclusive to www.LFCfights.com)

MISS TEXAS SWEETS TO APPEAR ON LFC PODCAST

LFC prospect Miss Texas Sweets makes her first appearance on the LFC podcast with host Michael Larkin this Sunday exclusively at www.LFCfights.com When she isn't fighting Sweets spends her time baking custom cakes (LFC fans love a little cake!) Look for this sexy baker to make her debut next season.

GLADIATRIX GETS NEW STUDIO, NEW DATES

LFC'S first feature film, Gladiatrix: Crescent Moon, was supposed to begin shooting last month but issues with Factory Film Studio's finances and creative differences between LFC Films and FFS owner Michael Lilly led to LFC taking the project away from FFS and signing with a larger studio based in Calgary, Canada. The film will begin production in the spring with an expected Christmas 2025 release.

WE'RE BACK! (ON FACEBOOK)

On June 3 the LFC's popular FB page was hacked. LFC CEO Shaun Donnelly spent nearly 4 months trying to get it back. If you've ever had the misfortune of having to deal with Meta you'll understand what a nightmare that was. Finally it became obvious the page was lost forever along with the more than 250,000 fans following the page. On September 28, the company launched a new page at <https://www.facebook.com/LingerieFightingOfficial> Within hours the new page had 10,000 followers. Be sure to check it out next time you're on FB.
